The Town Clerk informed Members that she had granted a dispensation to all Members for the setting of the 2018/2019 budget and precept.

5) Emergency planning

The Chairman invited Lianne Deathridge to explain about Shropshire Council's emergency plan and how the Council works with its partners and how it would like to work with parish councils. The Council ensures it meets the statutory requirements of the Civil Contingencies Act 2004 which means it has to be prepared to meet any threats, hazards and dangers it might face, such as terrorism, or natural weather e.g. snow and floods.

The Council works closely with the West Mercia resilience forum which includes West Mercia Police, Shropshire Fire and Rescue, West Midlands Ambulance Services, colleagues in Telford & Wrekin Council, Herefordshire Council and Worcestershire Council, as well as the Environment Agency, the MET Office, Highways England and other large companies.

Emergency Planning in Shropshire meets every other month with partner agencies known as a tactical co-ordinating group. There is a risk register for Shropshire and Telford & Wrekin that includes all the top risks. There are 8 specific risks that apply to our area which are assessed monthly. There is out of hours cover all year round and communication is by pager, and community work is very much supported.

Lianne was asked about what emergency plans were in place at the chemical works at Farley and she explained that the Fire & Rescue Service have plans in place and the river has been fitted with sensors to detect pollution. Lianne was also asked about the lack of communication concerning the recent water leak which left Much Wenlock without water. Lianne explained that she had been told by Severn Trent that the leak only affected Telford but later found out that both Much Wenlock and Broseley were affected. Delayed information led to communication problems and Severn Trent had subsequently agreed to attend a future emergency planning meeting with other agencies and partners. Lianne was asked about the recent snow which caused roads to be cut off and she explained that Shropshire Council is responsible for highways and the scale of the issue would have been down to how Shropshire Council prioritised because all areas were affected in Shropshire. Members were informed that Broseley intends to develop a community resilience plan for future emergencies.

The Chairman thanked Lianne for attending the meeting after which she left.

6) Shropshire Council Report

Cllr. David Turner wished everyone a Happy New Year and gave the following verbal report:

- He had attended St. Chadd's remembrance services for those killed in action or died from injuries during WW1.
- Shropshire Council's tax increase was mooted to be 5.9% and Cllr. Turner had difficulty supporting this and was disappointed that the Council had not implemented sufficient cost saving measures some months ago.
- Arriva had taken over the 436-bus service running through Much Wenlock following the unsatisfactory service provided by the previous contractor. An Arriva App had become available providing details of bus services that people could use on their phones.
- On the night before the snow fell Shropshire Council had treated the roads with salt and grit and, to a large extent, it had been successful. However, the grit spreaders had been delayed due to traffic and although the roads had been gritted before the second snow fall the snow that fell was too deep for the gritting to have any effect. Fallen trees across the roads had also caused problems.
- There had been a good turnout for the last litter pick which had been followed with tea on the Square.
- Cllr. Turner's next surgery would take place on 6 January 2018 at Willey Village Hall.
- The response to Shropshire Council's Parking Strategy consultation had attracted circa 2,500 comments. Responses revealed considerable resistance to linear pricing and the classification (banding) of car parks and their relative charges. Cllr. Turner had very strong views about the proposals and intended to make them known to Shropshire Council at a meeting that was open to members of the public.

Cllr. Turner's report was NOTED.
